Texas:
Urgent need to address rise in new cases

NEW COVID-19 CASES EACH DAY

If Texas continues with current level of reopening
If Texas implements stay at home orders

If we do not change course, Texas may surpass 20K new cases per day by the end of August.

- Continuing with reopening now will create a dramatic increase in the new COVID-19 cases per day.
- Implementing stay at home orders again soon can significantly reduce the number of new cases per day.
- If we don’t reverse course now, ICU bed capacity could be overwhelmed by the end of the summer.
